In Our Opinion...

Since the Roundup staff is sponsoring the current contest to select the best dressed woman student, we shall make use of the editorial column to encourage all of the students to participate in the election.

As stated in the front page story concerning the contest, the winner at BJC will be submitted to the national contest put on by GLAMOUR magazine. Should she be one of the 10 national winners, it would give our school wide publicity besides her personal recognition. Because she will represent our school, we should strive to make the best selection possible.

The following hints should be of some assistance in choosing the best possible candidate.

1. She has a nice figure a really well-dressed woman is never careless about her shape
2. She knows that a great deal of her beauty depends on good grooming. She isn't just neat she's impeccable
3. She's aware that a college campus is NOT the place for an extravagant wardrobe, spends only an average amount on clothes
4. She dresses according to the customs of her campus
5. Although she understands her own colleges fashion rules, she DOES have individuality
6. When away from college, she drops fads that are too collegiate for off-campus life
7. She knows how to wear make-up, but doesn't overdo it
8. She's fussy about her hair makes a point of keeping it clean, wears a hair-do that's becoming and fashionable
9. Knows her type and sticks to it. If a campus fad doesn't fit her style, she doesn't feel obliged to wear it.
10. She has an over-all wardrobe plan and has probably learned how to use accessories to create different kinds of looks for her basic wardrobe.

Tim's Campus Comments...

We students of BJC have many things to be proud of. One of the most outstanding is the student body. This is one of the few schools in Idaho where the students attend for real business. Very seldom is the word "horse play" connected with BJC students. The manner in which students drive, around the campus, is also to be commended. The majority of the student-drivers here have grown up, and use a car for transportation and not a plaything. The general atmosphere is very pleasant to be in. This is manifested by the students who are attending from many foreign countries. They have helped to give BJC a name for which the students can be justly proud.

Our basketball and football teams have also been a big boost to us. They have put Boise Junior college on the map athletically. The student body is sometimes criticized for the size of the cheering section at games, but never for the spirit of our fans or our teams. Another of our major attributes are our campus clubs. All are top-rate, and everywhere they go they leave a very good mark by which people will judge our student body.

Of course none of this would be possible without our excellent teaching and administrative staff. Thanks to them, a student with good grades can transfer to almost any school in the U. S. without the slightest academic handicap, and judging by the way the freshman chemistry class is receiving the work, the standards are not going to fall.

Yes, we all have a great deal to be proud of, but most of all our united effort to make Boise Junior college TOPS.

IC Ski Meet, Races Cancelled

Permanently cancelled this season is the Intercollegiate Cross country ski meet that was originally scheduled for last Friday. In past the meet had been a success with four or five schools participating. However, during last two or three years, none in this contest has been held with only the participating Boise Junior college and the Junior college.

Also cancelled, but only temporarily, are the Intercollegiate white stag races, which were to be run last Sunday. The cancellation was due to weather being run at Bogus Basin. A contributing factor was that a very few skiers showed up.

According to the racing chairman, there will be other date set in the near future.

This year's white stag races include expert and novice races for the men and an expert race for the women. The winner of the expert race will have his name engraved on the white stag in the gym.

Any male student with a two point average and who is interested may enter the club as a pledge if he proves himself to be loyal to the club and its purpose.

The regular activities of Pi Sigma Sigma include directing traffic at football and basketball games, helping the Red Cross during blood drawings, publishing a "Student Directory and Handy-Andy", providing a scholarship fund and sponsoring the annual Presidents ball in the spring.

Among its annual projects are the homecoming bonfire, a homecoming float, participating in the blood drive, the Golden Plume ball, and the spring carnival. Helping to sponsor the Boise Valley Film Festival is one of this year's activities.

Coach George Blankley's Nationally Rated Bronco Crew To Tangle With Ricks Squad For Region I Championship

Boise Junior College Bids For Third Successive Trip To National JC Tournament At Hutchinson, Kansas

Boise's junior college Bronco's will play host to Ricks college this weekend in the National Junior College Athletic association Region I playoffs that will be a two-out-of-three affair beginning Thursday night at eight o'clock in the BJC gym. Bronco coach George Blankley and his charges will be gunning for their third consecutive regional title and a trip to Hutchinson, Kansas, for the National JC tourney March 19-23.

Boise, ICAC champions for 1957, will carry a 20-4 seasonal mark into this week's tournament. The Vikings of Ricks, defending ICAC champs for the past two years, have had just a so-so season this year, compiling 14 wins against 14 losses and finishing fifth in the '57 ICAC competition with a 7-7 record.

BJC is the third ranked junior college team in the nation and also the country's second best defensive unit. Boise has allowed their opponents an average of 55.9 points per game while scoring an average of 67.6 in conference play.

Ricks, on the other hand, led the ICAC loop on offense this year with a 73.7 game average and 1032 points against their opponents. The Rexburg opposition has been averaging scores in the upper sixties.

The most consistent scorer for Ricks this year has been forward John Fullmer who wound up third in the ICAC individual scoring race just ahead of teammate Larry Jensen. Fullmer hit for 15.1 per game and center Jensen's average was 14.2.

Six-six center Nick Panico of BJC led the league in scoring with an 18.9 average and the last time the Broncos met Ricks at Rexburg he canned 31 to lead BJC to victory.

Five Idaho Teams Vie In Tourneys

Five of Idaho's seven colleges that sponsor a basketball team are entered for tournament play.

Boise Junior college and Ricks College of Rexburg will battle it out for the NJCAA Region I title. Idaho State college, ranked 17th in the nation, will be competing in the NCAA tourney later this month.

Coach Orrin Hill's Nampa Nazarenes played the first round in the District 5 NAIA meet at Billings last night. The winner of the four team joust goes to Kansas City and the national playoffs March 4-5.

Lewis and Clark Normal of Lewiston will participate in the Washington junior college playoffs. Only the C. of I. and the University are not scheduled to see tourney action.

Blank Verse for Blankley

There was a guy named Blankley
Who was tall and lanky.
He had a team that came from Boise;

They were very loud and noisy.
In his hand he carried a towel
Which he would wave and beat upon each foul.

Old George is not a bad old guy.
He is just kind of shy.
Sometimes we may go berserky
And our plays they no worky.
The reason for our lousy play
Was because we didn't listen to his say.

In the hotel lobby he sat;
Upon his head was that darned old hat.

JC Finalists Meet At Hutchinson JC

Junior colleges the nation over are preparing to enter regional play in their respective areas for the right to gain a position in the national JC tournament to be held in Hutchinson, Kansas, March 19-23.

As in the past the tourney will be a double elimination, 16-team affair that will pit the country's regional champs against each other for the right to the national crown.

Action in Region 13 last weekend saw Hibbing, Minn., slide past Bismark, North Dakota, 78-72. The College of Southern Utah, a member of the ICAC league, will host teams from Arizona, California and Utah, at Cedar City this weekend in Region 4 action.

The nation's number one ranked JC, Moberly, Mo., will be a strong favorite in Region 16 play while Brewerton-Parker of Mt. Vernon, Georgia, the number two team in the nation, is the favorite from Region 8.

Hawaiians To Meet Bums In Top Intramural Tilt

The Hawaiian Surfers have to win one of their two remaining intramural basketball games to assure themselves of at least a tie for the league crown. The Hawaiians will play the number two team, the Bums, tomorrow night at 7:30. S Suite and the IK's will also square off tomorrow evening.

After tomorrow's action there will only be three games left in

Horse Tracks by Hays

When old Sol momentarily came out of hibernation last week, bringing life back to the grass and creating a feeling of spring around the Boise valley, the little robin, warmed by the sun's rays, began to ruffle his feathers and elicit the song of spring as people shed their wraps in the warm afternoons. But Mr. Groundhog continued to snore, snuggled up comfortably, deep within his domain.

The weatherman has predicted more snow or rain this week, but in spite of uncertain climatic conditions that prevail the baseball and track aspirants will be turning out for practice during the ensuing week.

Action will be fast and furious on the home front these next two weeks as BJC and Ricks tangle for the NJCAA Region I crown this Thursday, Friday and possibly Saturday nights. Next week the gym will be the site of the 1957 Idaho high school basketball tourney that will run from Wednesday afternoon through Saturday night. Meanwhile back at this week's the do-not league play. The Bums still have to meet S Suite while the IK's and Hawaiians have another shot at each other and the S Suite-IK game will end the season.

Idaho Prep Teams To Use BJC Gym For State Playoff

Twelve of Idaho's top class A high school basketball teams will lock horns to battle for the state title March 13-16 in the Boise Junior college gymnasium.

The joust will be a double elimination affair with games starting Wednesday afternoon of the 13th and winding up with the championship game on Saturday evening.

Favorites in the tourney this year are a dime a dozen — anybody can win. Kellogg, two-time defending state titlist, will again appear in the state tourney along with Sandpoint as Area I representatives from up north. From the Boise valley will be Caldwell and Mtn. Home. However Big Six champion Pocatello and Madison of Rexburg are figured to be the strongest teams this year.

Pitchers, Catchers To Report Today; Lewis Wants Cindermen On Wednesday

Baseball coach Lyle Smith issued the call today for all pitchers and catchers to report this afternoon and tomorrow at three o'clock in the gymnasium. Infielders and outfielders will report for practice next Monday afternoon.

BJC's tentative 23 game schedule will get under way the latter part of March with a three game series with Eastern Oregon College of Education. BJC and EOC are scheduled for a home and home three game series. The Broncos also have contests on tap with the College of Idaho, NNC, Mtn. Home AFB, Ricks and Weber.

On May 11 the northern winner of the ICAC loop will meet the southern winner for the league title.

Weber won last year's northern division championship and will have have their ace pitcher Beckert returning for this season's squad.

BJC will have nine returning lettermen including two pitchers, two catchers, two outfielders and three infielders. Back for the second year will be Lyle Tuttle, Jim Nall, Corkey Hill, Joe and Paul Schafffield, Wally Pond, Chuck Turner, Bob House and Dale Haines.
